

Dr Emily Gregory-Roberts

BSc MBBS(Hons) MPhilMed FRANZCO
Cataract and glaucoma surgeon

Dr Emily Gregory-Roberts is an ophthalmologist, cataract surgeon and glaucoma specialist. She has the skills to offer the latest minimally invasive surgery techniques and devices, and she tailors each patient's surgical treatment to their individual needs. She graduated in Medicine from the University of Sydney with honours and completed a Masters degree in the discipline of Clinical Ophthalmology at the University of Sydney.

Following this, she trained in Ophthalmology at the Royal Victorian Eye and Ear Hospital in Melbourne. Emily then further developed her skills in glaucoma management and complex glaucoma and cataract surgery working as a clinical fellow at the Oxford Eye Hospital in Oxford, United Kingdom. She worked as a research fellow in the ophthalmology department at Columbia University in New York and her research has been published in multiple scientific journals, including 'Ophthalmology' and 'Eye'.

She is affiliated with the University of Sydney as a Clinical Lecturer in the Sydney Medical School, and she chairs the Therapeutics Committee of the Royal Australian and New Zealand College of Ophthalmologists (RANZCO).

